

Abstract

The invention relates to powdered preparations for inhalation containing a tiotropium salt and salmeterol xinafoate, processes for preparing them and their use in the preparation of 5 a pharmaceutical composition for treating respiratory diseases, particularly for treating COPD (chronic obstructive pulmonary disease) and asthma.